DETAILED ACTION

Claims 14-25 are currently pending in this application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

Lack of Unity Requirement

Claims 14-25 are drawn to more than one inventive concept (as defined by PCT Rule 13), and accordingly, a restriction is required according to the provision of PCT Rule 13.2.

PCT Rule 13.2 states that the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (requirement of unity of invention).

PCT Rule 13.2 states that unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features.

Annex B, Part 1(b), provides that “special technical features” mean those technical features, which, as a whole, define a contribution over the prior art.

Annex B, Part 1 (e), provides combinations of different categories of claims and states:

“The method for determining unity of invention under Rule 13 shall be construed as permitting, in particular, the inclusion of any one of the following combinations of claims of different categories in the same international application:

- (i) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an independent claim for a use of the said product, or
- (ii) in addition to an independent claim for a given process, an independent claim for an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process, or
- (iii) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an independent claim for an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process, . . .”

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

I. Claims 14-20 and 25, are drawn to a compounds of Formula I, depicted in claim 14, and their pharmaceutical composition, variously classified in several subclasses of classes 514, 546 and 548.

II. Claim 23, is drawn to a method of preparing compounds of Formula I, depicted in claim 1, variously classified in several subclasses of classes 546 and 548.

III. Claim 22, is drawn to a method of treating proliferative disease using compounds of Formula I, variously classified in several subclasses of classes 514.

IV. Claim 24, are drawn to a method of detecting HADC in a biological sample, variously classified in several subclasses of classes 514 .

The inventions listed as Groups I and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: they do not share the same essential structural element(s) that define the “special technical feature” necessary to specify a contribution over the prior art.

Art Unit: 1626

The structural moiety common to Groups I and III is which is known in the art ( see WO 01 38322) and therefore, cannot be said the special technical feature, which makes a contribution over the prior art. All other substituents differ structurally from one another. Thus, these claims lack the corresponding special technical feature(s) necessary to link them together to fulfill the Unity of invention requirement.

The inventions of Group I-IV are distinct, each from the other, because they differ in structure and/or element so as to be patentably distinct and a prior art reference anticipating but one of the groups would not render obvious the other groups under 35 U.S.C. 103.

The method of use and process of making the compounds will be examined along with the elected invention commensurate in scope therewith.

A telephone call was made to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
